

High Mingarry (Mingaraigh Ard), Moidart, Inverness-shire (NM 68827 70315)

A survey undertaken by the Moidart History Group,
Comann Eachdraidh Mùideart, in Spring / Summer 2008

A selection of photographs of the Settlement and its Features.

High Mingarry, panorama from North

Late 19th century bridge crossing a tributary of the Mingarry Burn at the northern edge of the woodland.
Feature 3.

Donald Dubh's Bridge, crossing the same tributary of the Mingarry burn at the western edge of Mingarry, viewed from north.
Feature 84.

Small shelter or pen, viewed from south, in modern forestry.
Feature 64.

Possible still site viewed from the southwest to show its position near the burn. The three members of the Moidart History Group are standing outside the roughly-built stone walls of the oval structure. Feature 75.

The most complete building at High Mingarry, and the highest on the hill. Feature 43.

Circular Feature 44 (foreground) and building Feature 43 viewed from northeast.

The southern late 19th century bridge, deep in the woods. Feature 1.

Altered building viewed from north. Feature 46.

Probable house viewed from east. Feature 9.

Possible farmstead viewed from east. Feature 31.

Oval, mainly turf, shelter. Feature 23.

Surveying at Feature 53 on a wintry day.

Surveying at Feature 56 on a hot day in May 2008

Early bridge abutment. Feature 11.